ASSEMBLY AIRS RELIEF BILL

Sen. Pierovich Offers
Measure To Legalize
Greyhound Racing

By JOHN W. DUNLAP
United Press Staff Correspondent
SACRAMENTO, (UP)—A new old age pension plan with the backing of AFL-controlled California state Federation of Labor was embodied in an assembly bill for presentation today by Ray Williamson, San Francisco Republican.

Williamson's bill provides for pensions of $50 per month with the age limit remaining at 65 years, but permits additional income to bring the total received up to $60 before deductions would be permitted.

Many administration sponsored bills are ready for submission, particularly by the state relief administration in regard to self-help cooperatives and production for use.

Detailed figures on relief to aliens and costs of other phases of relief were introduced to the assembly by state relief administrator H. Dewey Anderson, in response to a resolution requesting the data. The report showed that $2,159,000, or 5.9 per cent of the entire relief load, was allotted to an average monthly total of 13,100 aliens during the period from July 1, 1937 to Dec. 1, 1938.

Anderson pointed out a possible future solution to the Mexican alien problem through voluntary repatriation to re-establish Mexicans in their native land. Anderson said consideration is being given such a plan proposed by a Mexican planning commission.

Senator A. L. Pierovich, Jackson, estimated the state would receive $5,000,000 annually from legalized greyhound racing under a pari-mutuel system outlined in his bill. The state would have to "take" of six per cent up to $50,000; seven per cent between $50,000 and $100,000; eight per cent up to $150,000; and nine per cent over that amount.

PADILLA DEATH PROBE REVEALS CAR GOING MILE A MINUTE

The automobile from which Manuel Padilla was hurled to his death a week ago, was traveling between sixty and seventy miles an hour at the time it left the road and overturned.

This was disclosed at a coroner's inquest into the death held on Wednesday night, in which a statement made by Herbert Padilla, brother of the dead man and driver of the car, was read to the inquest jury.

Herbert remains a patient at Placerville Sanatorium.

The statement also revealed that the two had had three drinks of wine apiece, prior to the wreck, but authorities were unable to learn that the wine had been purchased.

The verdict of the jury was that Manuel Padilla met his death by "overturning of an automobile on the highway near Shingle Springs, causing accidental death, and which said automobile was driven by Herbert Padilla."

On the jury were Bert Frey, foreman, and Thomas Drake, Leo Condon, Charles J. Ruple, William Martin, A. B. Capps, George Fay, W. A. Houston, Ed Olson, R. W. White, Adam Marchini and E. V. Vennewitz.

Taylor Mine Purchased By Rosencranz Concern

The Lode Development Company, which is operating the Rosencranz mine, has acquired the adjoining claim including the old Taylor mine, according to papers recorded at the courthouse during the week.

The Taylor is an old-time producer, long inactive, and those in the mining industry of the county will be glad to see the property producing after these many years.

Clark Jordan, 15, who ran away the fore part of the week from his home at Temple City, near Los Angeles, was located in the Georgetown district by Sheriff Smith and is held for Los Angeles officers, who are coming to return him to his parents.

Funeral services were held on Thursday at Sacramento for Victor Urutia, 60, a rancher of the Gardnerville district and brother of Mrs. Mary Rohrer, of Placerville, who died on Monday at his residence.

SOCIETY RENTS BUILDING

County Historical Unit
Acquires Sacramento St.
Site For 2 Years

A two-year lease upon the J. J. Lewenstein business property on Sacramento Street just off Main Street was signed Wednesday afternoon by Mr. and Mrs. Lewenstein and representatives of the recently-formed El Dorado County Historical Society.

The society hopes that the building may become available to the public as a museum or place for exhibiting and safely storing pioneer relics and early day records of the County by about April 1.

Meanwhile, it will be necessary to secure funds to rehabilitate the building and to underwrite the expense of operation during the year and this matter is in the care of Reuel V. Whigham, recently retired president of the county Chamber of Commerce, who has been appointed chairman of the history society's finance committee.

The Sacramento Street site was chosen from several suggested locations which were considered by the building committee of the society, of which Cecil Barker is the chairman. It had been the aim of the committee to recommend the purchase of a site and the erection by the society of its own building. However, no site which the society could purchase and on which it could complete a building in time for the Exposition year, was found available.

New Building Reported Opposite City Hall

It is reported that a new building is to be erected on the vacant Main Street lots opposite the city hall, owned by Pacifico Pezzola.

The Court Garage, which has been renting the property for auto parking, has been asked to vacate by Monday and rumor says the building will be a two-story structure with two business frontages.

Owner Pezzola Thursday morning intimated that something is planned but said that at that time "nothing has been signed" and indicated any statement then would be premature.

It is reported the structure will cost about $11,000 and that the contract for the building has been awarded to Frank Schmershal.

LEGION CIVIC DINNER TO BE HELD ON FEBRUARY 1

The annual civic dinner, given by the American Legion Post to the business and civic leaders of El Dorado County, and which has become a highlight in the year's affairs, will be held, two weeks hence, on Wednesday night, February 1st, at the Veterans' Memorial Hall. This was decided at a regular meeting Wednesday night.

Dr. Lester B. Rantz, is chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements, which will include in addition to the dinner which is to be spread at 6:30 p. m., a regular meeting of the Legion, to which all guests are invited, followed by social gathering in the clubroom's at the hall. Invitations are to go out next week, the committee said.

Other business transacted included announcement of the annual meeting of the El Dorado County Fair Association for next Wednesday night, January 25th, at the Legion hall.

All members of the Post are also members of the association, it was pointed out, and are invited to be present. At this meeting according to George E. Faugsted, chairman of the Fair Board, a complete report of last year's activities and plans for the coming county fair in August, will be given.

FRANK SPURRIER TALKS AT 4-H COUNCIL MEETING

Frank Spurrier, assistant state 4-Club leader, was in Placerville Wednesday evening to meet with the county 4-H Club Council, and spent Thursday forenoon going over 4-H Club work with Farm Advisor Ivan Lilley.

In addition to the talk by Mr. Spurrier, the Council considered various phases of club activity and launched plans for the annual club leaders' party, to be held in connection with the March meeting. Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Barton, George Volz and Roy Marks are the committee in charge.

In Division One; Missouri
Flat Has No Candidate

The regular election for directors of the El Dorado Irrigation District will be held on February 1 in two of the five divisions of the district. In other divisions, the incumbent directors still have a year of their terms to serve.

The election will be held in Division Five, embracing Missouri Flat.

The time for filing nominations in the election has expired and in the first division, W. A. Caldwell is unopposed as a candidate for reelection.

In Division Five, there is no candidate. George Ihnen, incumbent, declined to become a candidate for reelection owing to the unsatisfactory condition of his health, it was reported.

Division Five will vote on February 1 at the Community Hall at Missouri Flat, and Division One will vote the same day at the Community Church, at Camino.

HOME MISSIONARY GROUP EMBARKED ON STUDY FOR YEAR

The Women's Home Missionary Society of the Federated Church has begun its mission study for the year and invites the attendance of interested friends at its meetings.

The study for the year is based on the book, "The American City and Its Church," by Samuel C. Kincheloe, and is being presented in three sections, the first of which was given by Mrs. O. H. Hermle at the society's recent meeting.

The theme for the February meeting, to be held on February 10, is, "The City and Government," and the speaker will be Mrs. Percy Mcenie, of Camino.

Mrs. Hermle presented a very able and instructive review at the January meeting, taking as the subject, "The City and Business." She gave first the physical structure common to our larger cities, then the distribution of the population with its different nationality groups, the general picture of business competition, unemployment and the work done through the administration of relief and old age pensions.

World's Fair "Preview" Planned Saturday

A "preview" of El Dorado County's participation in the California world's fair will be afforded members of the Board of Supervisors, members of the city council, newspaper men and other invited guests, numbering a total of about twenty, on this coming Saturday.

The occasion is at the invitation of the California Exposition Commission and has been arranged through the county Chamber of Commerce.

The group will go to Treasure Island, have a luncheon there and inspect the fair site. Size of the party is limited to invited guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bilodeaux, Sr., who for the past month have been visiting their son and wife here, will leave this evening for Chehalis, Washington, where Mr. Bilodeaux will be associated in the lumber business as a lumbering contractor, with the Weyerhaeuser Timber Company.

Lou Volz was here from Auburn Sunday, calling on his brother Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Volz.

To God:

MINNEAPOLIS (UP)—The clerk sorting mail in the Minneapolis postoffice stopped short as he picked up a grubby envelope addressed in childish printing, and looked again at the inscription:

"To God. In Heaven. Up in the sky."

Then he laid it aside for postal inspectors to open.

In the envelope they found a single sheet of paper.

"Dear God," it said, "When I go upstairs, please let me see Floydie."

"Bobby."

Reporters dug out the story then. Bobby is 6. Floydie was 4. And Bobby was his friend and protector when other children made fun of him because his eyes were crossed.

They lived just two doors apart.

Last week Floydie's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Highstrom, took him to the hospital for the operation that was to straighten his eyes.

As he went under the anaesthetic, he kept repeating:

"I want Bobby. I want Bobby. I want Bobby."

Floydie didn't recover consciousness. There were, in the firm terms of the hospital charts, "respiratory and cardiac difficulties."

And Saturday Bobby went to his friend's funeral.

He heard the Rev. Emil Neuhardt conclude the sermon with a poem:

"We know when little children, 'In innocence they die."

"It is the loving Saviour 'Who takes them to the sky.'"

Then he talked to the Rev. Neuhardt, who told him that Floydie had taken a long journey, to see God.

So Yesterday Bobby's mother, Mrs. Neil Lewis, found him at his desk, writing a letter.

There wasn't much she could do. She helped him with the spelling, and buttoned his coat for him so he could go to the corner mail box and drop the letter addressed:

"To God. In Heaven. Up in the sky."

Historic Tale Of 'Hangtown' Is Again Told

Mrs. Evelyn Conant and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Nugent were here from the Bay District last week for a visit with friends and in connection the suggestion of several weeks ago that the name of Placerville ought to be changed to "Hangtown," their coming here was of special interest.

Mrs. Conant and Mr. Nugent are brother and sister, children of Thomas Carr Nugent, who was postmaster in Placerville at the time the post office department officially accepted "Placerville" as the name of the community.

They related that at this time, the name of "Hangtown" was reported to the postoffice department as the name of the community and the reply was, in effect:

"You'll have to find something else; we've too many Hangtowns now."

"Placerville" was then submitted and accepted.

"GRANDPA" SHEPARD IS REPORTED AS DOING FINE

The members of the Ladies Auxiliary to Placerville Aerie No. 889, F. O. E., report that among new babies born to members is a son born to Mrs. Noreen Shepherd Gonelli, a member of the auxiliary, whose father, Jos. Shepherd, is secretary of the aerie.

The auxiliary members "understand" that Grandpa Shepherd is doing fine.

Other new babies reported at the auxiliary meeting on Jan. 9 are a son, born to Mrs. Ileen Jones Owens, of Oroville, on Christmas Day, and a son born Dec. 30 to Mrs. Pauline Brown.

Business of the meeting included appointment of a committee for the card party January 27 with Mrs. Nora Gray in charge of prizes, Mrs. June Longhurst, refreshments, assisted by Mrs. Mabel Johnson and Mrs. Duella Shepherd.

H. S. Band Members Plan Benefit Concert

Members of the county high school band are making plans for a concert at the high school auditorium on the evening of February 15.

The purpose of the concert, which is intended to become an annual affair, is to raise funds to be used in uniforming the band, it is announced.

H. S. FOOTBALL FACING TEST

All Schools Vote On Sport In Survey Under State Supervision

PACIFIC GROVE (UP)—Proposed vote among California Interscholastic Federation high schools on the question of whether they want to abandon football or modify rules has been enlarged to include every high school in the state, it was disclosed today.

A. B. Ingham, secretary of the C. I. F., announced that the physical education division of the state department of education, has taken over supervision of the ballot.

Specially prepared questionnaires have been drawn up by W. H. Orion, state physical education director, and are ready for distribution to every high school principal in the state.

The ballot is comprised of three principal questions:

"1. Does your high school play football?"

"2. Do you favor continuing football as a competitive sport under present rules?"

"3. If not, would you make any modification in the rules?"

The C. I. F. planned originally to confine the vote only to the federation's member schools. Agitation for a vote on possible abandonment of the game came from certain C. I. F. members who charged there was excessive injury to players and over emphasis of the sport.

Grand Jury Is Organized

C. W. Doe, Jr., Named
Foreman As Unit Meets
Briefly Before Noon

The county Grand Jury for 1939 was named Thursday morning in Superior Court and C. W. Doe, Jr., of Diamond was appointed foreman.

Following receiving instructions by the court, the members of the Grand Jury adjourned to the jury room and agreed to recess until 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

It is reported that one suspect is held in the county jail for possible appearance before the grand jury. He is Roy Wilson, 44, of Green Valley. The notation on the blotter is that held for "investigation" and the nature of the case was not revealed.

In addition to Mr. Doe, the members of the Grand Jury are, Don Hook, Henry Bacchi, W. A. Caldwell, Russell J. Wilson, Virgil Avansino, E. W. Sturtevant, Thomas Darrington, J. M. Class, George W. McKenzie, Dwight Douglas, Samuel E. Kaiser, Arthur J. Blair, Emma J. Hodgkin, Vincent Zanini, Merritt W. Carpenter, Frank Cole, W. S. Kirk and Charles MacLaughlin.

DEATH OF FORMER CAMINO RESIDENT IS REPORTED

We have received from a friend a memorandum of the death of Albert G. Wilson, formerly a resident of Camino and at one time employed in the lumber industry there.

Mr. Wilson, the letter says, left Camino about 1908 and went to San Francisco, later being employed at the Gladstone mine, in Shasta County.

"When the World War broke out," the letter continues, "he enlisted with the Canadian 29th Vancouver Battalion, Signal Corps, and was 'over there' the duration of the war and in Germany with the Army of Occupation. He returned to San Francisco in 1919. He joined the army as a private and rose to the rank of major, being decorated four times.

"In August of 1923 he married Miss Bridena Meredith, of San Francisco.

"At the time of his death, Mr. Wilson was in the employ of the Southern California Edison Company at Big Creek, California, and had been with them for seventeen years in the capacity of hydrographic engineer. He met his death while making tunnel measurements when he probably slipped while emerging from the tunnel and fell to the pool below. He was wearing heavy waders which made swimming impossible. The accident occurred about 2:30 p. m. on June 24, 1938.

"His wife, Mrs. Albert G. Wilson, now residing at 1493 Center Street, Napa, California, would be glad to receive letters from anyone who knew him and could tell her anything of his early life."

Sports Parade

By HENRY McLEMORE

LOS ANGELES (UP)—Goodbye and farewell, dear public.

Adieu, chow, auf wiedersehen, and adjo. Also a brisk ta-ta.

Because this may be my last effort as a sportswriter before embarking in a new career as a handicapper of race horses. Brilliantly successful in my debt as a selector at San Anita, offers for my services are coming in from all parts of the world.

Postmen and messengers have been to my house so many times since I named four winners on one day's card that they are calling me by my first name, helping themselves to cold snacks out of the ice box, and mixing their own drinks.

Some of the offers are almost too substantial to turn down. A collect one from Turkey, for example, guarantees me everything but riparian rights to the Dardanelles if I will only come over and pick the winners. I would do all right there, too, because I am a master of the Turkey Trot. From far off Arabia came an offer to spend a thousand and one nights in that country, all expenses paid except transportation, room and board.

One of the leading English tout sheets cabled "Do nothing until you talk with us," and a prominent French scratch sheet urged that I join its staff because "fifty thousand Frenchmen are tired of being wrong."

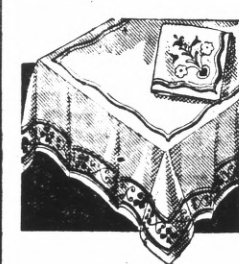

Very tempting, and very flattering, too, because until I served as guest handicapper for a Los Angeles paper, I did not know that I could interpret horses as easily as most men can sanskrit. Until I agreed to serve as guest handicapper I had never paid much attention to the horse. To me, the horse had always been nothing more vital than the chief source of supply for baseball covers, and something Tom Mix and other western movie stars employed to overtake the train on which the villain had run away with the heroine. But, faced with the task of selecting horses on which thousands of citizens were going to risk their money, I made a serious study of the animal. I never knew, until I settled down to finding out about the horse, that he originated in Arabia and at one time was tree-climbing. Or that many horses don't know a word of English and will respond only halfheartedly to such commands as "Get up," "Whoa," and "roll over and play dead."

Horses aren't very smart, either. There never has been a horse, my research revealed, to make Who's Who, hold a chain at Vassar, or win the Pulitzer prize. The horse, in fact, is very dumb, and it was this knowledge of his backwardness that enabled me to name four winners in one afternoon. In making my selections, I started with the premise that there wasn't a horse on the program who gave a hoot whether he won or lost. Naturally, then, I forgot all about horses, and concentrated on the jockeys. I knew that all jockeys liked to win, because a jockey gets more money when he rides a winner.

My problem, then, was to locate the jockeys who liked most to win. Knowing none of their telephone numbers, I had to go about solving the problem in a cold, scientific manner. Taking one of my hats—the pork pie with the feather in it, as I recall—I placed all the names of the jockeys in it. Then, as a further guarantee of accuracy, I called in one of my outies who looks a great deal like a horse in a sharp light, and asked her to pick out eight names.

She obliged, as well she might, being as she lived off of me for seven years, or even since her husband foolishly went to work without his gloves and left some finger-

Neighborhood NEWS

LOTUS

The first wedding here for the year 1939 took place at the home of Judge Chas. A. Rasmussen last Friday at 11 a. m. when the judge united in marriage Frank Reeves and Lottie Thomas, both residents of Coloma, in the presence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John True, her sisters, brothers and others. The couple, after their honeymoon will make their home in Coloma. The judge looks to two more weddings to take place in the near future. Guess who and we will tell you.

Marvin Henry, wife, and family, who recently purchased the Lucy Bundern property at Coloma, have gone to Marysville for the winter to do some carpenter work during their absence from here. Mr. and Mrs. John True are occupying the home until they return.

We are pleased to note that Mrs. Ida Pontious, who has been a patient at the Placerville Sanatorium for a week or more, has returned to her home in Coloma much improved in health and the lady is now getting along very nicely.

Mrs. Mary Bacchi is taking a week off from her household duties and is in Placerville visiting with Mrs. Dick Flowers. We venture to say that Mary will be home to take in the '49 dance at Coloma Saturday night.

Word has reached us that Mrs. Hector Williamson, who has been a patient at the Sutter Hospital in Sacramento for the past two weeks, is recovering her health and will soon be back to her home.

Among those from here who journeyed to Smith Flat Saturday night to take in the whist card party were Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Bowman, Mrs. Florence Hines, Mrs. Violet Reaside, Mrs. Lottie Galleher, Mrs. Ella Norris, Henry Bacchi, Frank Gallagher, Mrs. Irma Lawyer and her daughter, Mrs. Ethel Tidd, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Ronzone, Uncle Will Galleher, our veteran card player was unable to go with the crowd owing to a bad cold. All report a fine time and the midnight spread was in every way galore.

Mrs. Rex Barron, Mrs. Joe Leonard, and Mrs. Jack Huston were callers at the Reaside home the past week.

Mrs. Ethel Tidd, her mother, Mrs. Irma Lawyer and Will Galleher went to Smith Flat Wednesday night and took in the card party.

Visitors to our town the past week were Antone (better known as Tony) Lemos, newly elected Justice of the Peace for Greenwood Township; C. Fred Berthold, from Colma; Owen Leavitt and his father, from Auburn; George Pontius, our Coloma merchant and service station man; Hilmer Winje, of Gold Hill; Mr. and Mrs. Rube Hart, of Cammino; Joe Lehman and Otis Day, of Colma as well as Supervisor Carl Niguel.

Plans for the annual Gold Discovery '49 dance are now complete. There will be cash prizes for the best costume, one each for lady and gentleman. Competent judges will be on hand to determine the winners.

Church services were held in Coloma last Sunday by the Rev. Rex Barron with only nine in attendance from Lotus and Coloma. We regret that more folks do not attend these services and hope that on the third Sunday of February a greater number will make an effort to be there.

George McKean was pleasantly surprised Friday by a visit from an old friend, Fred Wilson, of Sacramento. Mr. McKean has recently

Summit Notes

Last Friday the school children gave their teacher, Mrs. Kemp Van Ee, a surprise party. A delicious luncheon of sandwiches, salad and cake was served and several nice gifts were presented to her. Two of the mothers, Mrs. Heuer and Mrs. McCoy, both of whom made birthday cakes, were also present.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Bradford had as their guests over the week-end Mr. and Mrs. Lester Faltersack and daughter, Phyllis of San Jose.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. McCoy entertained a few friends with an enchilada dinner Saturday night. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Bradford, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Faltersack, of San Jose, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Van Ee, and Mrs. Fred Boyer. Mr. Clarence Smith and Mr. Bill Longfellow, both of Los Angeles, and the host and hostess.

The Dramatic club rehearsals are still going on for several plays and skits to be given in the near future. We should like everyone who is interested in the activities of the club to attend the rehearsals, as it helps the school and a nice social time is enjoyed by all.

The Pleasant Valley Grange Home moved into his new home, recently built by Harry Reaside. We apologize to Mr. McKean for misspelling his name in the past and hope that we now have it correct.

Walter Leavitt, manager for the Pacific Fruit Exchange in Placerville, was in our town Monday calling on some of our pear growers.

The term of probation under which two young men were placed by our Justice of the Peace several weeks ago, has been reduced from a year and a half to ninety days upon reconsideration.

Economics Club met at the home of Mrs. Tom Gordon at nine o'clock last Sunday morning, and spent the day quilting. A pot-luck luncheon was enjoyed by Mrs. Ernest Stevens, Mrs. Lena Campini, Mrs. Dolores Brown, Mrs. A. G. Springer and Mrs. Tom Gordon. There will be another meeting Sunday, Jan. 22, at the same place, for the same purpose. When the quilt is finished it will be sold and the money will be donated to the Grange building fund.

We were very sorry to learn of the serious illness of Mrs. Virgil Avansino and daughters Edith and Daisy. We hope for a speedy recovery for all.

Mr. Al Norton, District Deputy

from Orland Grange, Glenn County, was a visitor Tuesday night at the Pleasant Valley Grange meeting. Also Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wygerama, of Hangtown Grange. We extend a welcome to all visitors.

SOCIETY RENTS

which could be leased for a reasonable number of years, which would be fireproof, afford potential parking space for tourist visitors, be within easy walking distance for pedestrians, and which would be available at a price which the society could afford to pay.

In announcing the execution of the lease, Wallace M. Ripley as chairman of the society's publicity committee released the following statement:

"It is felt that the site selected by the committee possesses all of these qualities and at the same time has definite historical importance itself. For many years it was occupied as a Chinese store, later by a Chinese laundry and more recently by the well known harness shop which Mr. Lewenstein has operated.

"The story is authenticated that many years ago, upon removal of a partition, a large supply of opium which had been cached in the walls was revealed and turned over to the sheriff. The building is situated on the Mother Lode Highway and close to the corner of Main Street with its heavy visiting traffic on Highway 50.

"The four walls are of heavy native stone and the ceiling is packed with two feet of sand as an additional fire protection. Minor alterations will also make the building burglar proof, an item of great importance to those who have offered to lend their exhibits to the Society.

"The Building Committee has substituted a preliminary budget which calls for the raising of twelve hundred dollars. Mr. Whisman and his committee have already presented a plan for securing popular subscriptions to raise this amount and it is expected from the favorable expressions received that a short campaign on the part of the members will quickly accomplish their objective.

"The building and its contents will be under the joint occupancy and supervision of the El Dorado County Historical Society and the Chamber of Commerce.

FRUIT RIDGE

The date for our next meeting was set as the second Thursday in

SHINGLE SPRINGS

The teachers and pupils had some excitement here Wednesday when a fire was discovered in between the two rooms of the school. It was not long before things moved to the outside and all the lower grades were dismissed. Very little damage was done to the large room where the upper grades are and it was reported Wednesday afternoon that school will continue for them without interruption. Just when the lower grades will return is not known as yet.

A great many from here attended the funeral held at Folsom for Mrs.
John Dunlap last Thursday. They joined with friends from far and near at the services and numerous floral pieces showed the love and esteem held for her by friends and loved ones.

Those who attended the Grange card party at Smith Flat from this section included Mrs. Sid Gray, Mrs.
Heusner and Mrs. J. L. Miller. All report a good time.

The Shingle, Diamond Springs and El Dorado card party will be held at the home of Mrs. Griner, in El Dorado, Thursday of this week.

Friday and Saturday Specials, January 20th and 21st

Years ago, before Nicholas Appert discovered that foods could be kept indefinitely by hermetically sealing them in a can—people had to eat foods in season. Today, thanks to canning and Red & White's wide variety—right in the dead of winter you can serve your family these fine foods as fresh, pure and wholesome as the day they were picked. Just look at the wide variety and at the low prices!
